

HIGH-WATER MARK.
597,390 Worlds
WERE PRINTED YESTERDAY.

THE WORLD
NEW YORK, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1892.

The World Presses
Yesterday turned out the greatest number of papers ever printed in one day in any newspaper office.

PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1892.

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION.

A TRIUMPH THAT KEEPS GROWING.

Democracy Wins Everything National and Converts Many States.

OHIO SWEEP INTO LINE.

Cleveland's Electoral Vote Confidently Placed as High as 300.

NEXT SENATE DEMOCRATIC.

Republicans Cling to Fifer as a Forlorn Hops in Their Illinois Wreck.

The political situation today is that the Democracy has carried everything national and knocked out or neutralized Republican power in most of the States.

Reid Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan and California, Ohio has been added to the Democratic column and the once solid Republican West is no longer a recognizable entity.

A complete list of States at present claimed for the Cleveland electors is as follows:

Alabama, Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia, and Wisconsin.

Twenty-five out of the whole forty-four, and giving an electoral vote of 260.

As foreshadowed by the choice of State Legislatures which are to elect new United States senators, the next United States Senate will be divided as follows: Democrats, 42; Republicans, 40; Peoples, 0; anti-Republican majority, 8.

Democratic Legislatures have been elected in New York, Wisconsin and California to choose the successors of Republican senators Hiseck, Sawyer and Nelson.

Union Legislatures have been elected to choose Senators in place of these Republicans:addock, of Nebraska; Perkins, of Kansas; Warren, of Wyoming; and Stewart, of Nevada.

According to the latest returns the new House of Representatives will stand 276 Democrats, 127 Republicans and 13 Fusionists or Third party men. Several of the Fusionists are Democrats and will vote with that party.

BUT ALL ELECT CLEVELAND.

Nine Morning Papers Differ a Bit as to the Electoral Division.

The following divisions of the Electoral College are given by the nine morning papers printed in English in this city:

PAPER	CLEVELAND	DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS	PEOPLES	ANTI-REPUBLICANS
THE WORLD	260	260	184	0	0
THE SUN	260	260	184	0	0
THE TRIBUNE	260	260	184	0	0
THE NEW YORK HERALD	260	260	184	0	0
THE NEW YORK JOURNAL	260	260	184	0	0
THE NEW YORK POST	260	260	184	0	0
THE NEW YORK EVENING POST	260	260	184	0	0
THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE	260	260	184	0	0
THE NEW YORK JOURNAL	260	260	184	0	0
THE NEW YORK POST	260	260	184	0	0

THE TURNOVER IN OHIO.

Cleveland's Plurality in the State Estimated at 700.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 10.—(11:30 A. M.)—The Enquirer (dem.), with four counties to hear from, three of which have hitherto been Democratic, estimates Cleveland's plurality in the State at 700.

REPUBLICANS CLING TO FIFER.

They Won't Admit Losing the Governorship in Illinois.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Cleveland has carried Illinois beyond all doubt. That even the Republicans concede, the most determined members of that party will not, however, admit that Fifer has been defeated for Governor.

Returns are coming in so slowly on account of severe snow storms throughout the State that it will probably be forty-eight hours before the full result can be approximately gauged.

Cook County, according to the best information obtainable at 2 P. M. has given Cleveland a plurality of 33,000 and Alford a plurality of 30,000.

THE SWEEP IN WISCONSIN.

Electors, Governor, Legislature and All Democratic.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 10.—The Democratic plurality in Wisconsin on Cleveland and the entire State ticket is from 10,000 to 15,000.

The Democrats have elected 57 of the 100 members of the lower house of the Legislature, and 10 of the 16 State senators who were to be elected. They have 15 hold-over members, and have therefore 25 of the 35 senators composing the upper house.

M'SWYNY'S MARITAL TROUBLE.

Now His Wife Declares She Don't Want a Divorce.

Each Has Had a Quartet of Legal Advisers.

The marital affairs of Bryan Meswiny and the wife he married in 1860 were down for an airing in two courts to-day.

The first was a motion by the famous shoe-maker, in Supreme Court Chambers, for an order of dissolution of the matrimony which he is compelled to pay his wife pending her suit against him for absolute divorce.

The suit began a year ago to-day and Meswiny was ordered to pay to Catherine M. Meswiny $25 a week on her alimony, that his income was $10,000 a year.

Later he moved in chambers, for a reduction to $10 a week, and the reduction was ordered. Now he thinks $4 a week is enough even for the wife of the leader of "Meswiny's Four Hundred."

The argument was adjourned until Monday next before Justice Andrews.

At the same hour Justice Ingraham called the case of Meswiny vs. Meswiny for trial in Special Term.

Mrs. Meswiny was in court, and the case was set down for to-morrow. But the small and frail-looking plaintiff declared in the corridor that she didn't want any divorce at all.

Bryan has had four lawyers at different times since the suit began, and Mr. McMahon is the fifth legal light who has had a turn at the case for Mrs. Meswiny.

But, my good woman, he asked her to-day, "what is to become of your sworn complaint that your husband has been living for years with Bella Malone, of 115 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, and that they had children?"

But the weak-kneed little, old lady insisted that she didn't want any divorce and that all her former lawyers had deceived her.

EVADING THE QUARANTINE.

Aliens Simply Declare They Come on Business.

The steamship companies are not having any great amount of trouble in avoiding the onerous twenty-day quarantine rule, and are quietly laughing in their sleeves at the custom-house officials.

The construction placed upon the word "immigrant" by the Treasury Department is an alien seeking permanent residence in this country. Aliens are not necessarily immigrants. Visitors and men coming to America on business are not to be held.

All that an alien has to say is that he is not going to settle here permanently, although he may be here for a long time, and then he will go home again.

On board the Red Star steamship Friedland yesterday, she had on board about 300 aliens, and is expected to arrive at New York City tomorrow.

Board of Trade and Transportation yesterday afternoon decided to ask Congress to establish a National quarantine at this port.

RELATED OCEAN STEAMERS.

The Zealand Four Days Overdue—The Arrival of the Devonian.

The steamer Zealand, of the Royal Netherlands, should have arrived here four days ago, but so far has not been heard of. She left Rotterdam on Oct. 20 with a cargo of freight, and carries very few passengers.

At the company's office very little uneasiness is expressed, as nearly all the incoming vessels are delayed just now on account of the bad weather.

The Devonian, of the Anchor Line, came into Quarantine at 7:10 this morning. She was due here on Monday, but encountered very rough weather, which delayed her passage. Further than being shaken up, there are no accidents reported.

The Hamburg-American line, was reported to be overdue, but this is a mistake. She is expected to arrive here, where she arrived on Oct. 28, yet.

REPUBLICAN SHOP SHUT UP.

No Further Pretence of Disputing Cleveland's Election.

The Republican have practically shut up shop at 518 Fifth avenue. They have also ceased claiming the election. Messrs. Carter, Clarkson, Manley and McCombs had another council this morning, but Mr. Carter refused to talk for publication.

Chairman Clarkson, of the Republican State campaign committee, will leave for his home in New York to-night. He feels sore and does not conceal his disappointment.

HIS SKULL CUT OPEN.

A Man Struck Three Blows on the Head with an Axe.

The Would-Be Murderer Said to Be a Jealous Husband.

He Lay in Wait for His Victim in a Hester Street Tenement Stairway.

Ellis Giannacopoul, a native of Greece, twenty-nine years old, was struck down in the stairway of his home, at 105 Hester street, early this morning, and so badly injured that his death is only a matter of a few hours.

He was struck three times on the head with a large axe, and his skull was fractured in three places.

His supposed assailant is under arrest. The prisoner is a bookbinder who is known as "George." He gives his name as Jose Ginzio and his age as thirty years. He was arrested by Detectives Hanlon and Scully, of the Mulberry street station.

The injured man was employed as an "omnibus" in the restaurant of the Hotel Marlborough. He has lived for a year past at 105 Hester street, where he occupied a small room on the top floor. The house is a large tenement. The wounded man worked at night, and usually got home about 1:30 in the morning. He was single and lived alone.

About 1:45 A. M. Policeman Granville, of the Elizabeth street squad, was standing at the corner of Mott and Hester streets, when he saw the man stagger out of the house and come towards him.

The officer ran up and asked him what was the matter. The man, whose face was covered with blood, explained that he was going upstairs to his room, and when passing through the hall some one struck him several blows on the head. He said he did not know who his assailant was.

Granville called for assistance and had the wounded man taken to the station-house. The police then searched the building, but found no trace of the man's assailant. It was ascertained that the assault had been committed just as Giannacopoul reached the top of the stairway. His assailant had apparently been watching for him on top of the stairs, and struck him with the axe when he came up.

Policeman Granville finally discovered the assassin hidden away in a hole in the wall which had been boarded up and nailed tight. The assailant must have been well acquainted with the house, for he had torn out one of the boards which had been nailed near the aperture in the wall, and put the axe inside.

Then he replaced the board. The edge of the axe was covered with blood. The handle of the weapon was two feet long, and the head weighed several pounds.

When the wounded man was taken to the station-house he was closely questioned, but declined at first to admit that he knew who his assailant was.

A surgeon was called. The surgeon who accompanied him to the station-house declared him to be mortally wounded. His assailant had struck him with the axe with so much force that the sharp edge had crashed through his skull in three places. Two of the wounds were on the side of the head, and the third right hand had also been cut.

The surgeon took the axe with him, and it was not until then that he gave information relative to the arrest of the assassin. He said that he had seen the assassin in the house, and that he had been in the same house with his wife, but had moved away six months ago. Giannacopoul was a Greek, and his wife was a Greek. They had been married for several years.

The Elizabeth street police notified the officers of the Mulberry street station, whose precinct the assault was committed, of the case, and Detectives Hanlon and Scully were sent to the station-house.

They arrested him about 6 o'clock, in a saloon, corner of Division and Gouverneur streets, where he had been drinking. He was taken to the station-house, where he was held incommunicado.

The prisoner pretends to be unable to speak English and refuses to say a word. The detective who was with him at the time he was arrested, identified him by the name of "George," but the latter was unconscious. "George" was then locked up.

The police are positive that the prisoner is the guilty man. Peter Alexandria, who keeps a saloon at 105 Hester street, told the police that he had seen the assassin in the house, and that he had been in the same house with his wife, but had moved away six months ago.

It appears that when Giannacopoul lived with his wife at 105 Hester street their rooms were on the floor below the one on which the assassin lived. The assassin's wife is said to be young and good-looking.

The Walker, a white "George" night, is said to be a "cinephile" paid some attention to the case, and gave a visible effect upon the jury.

Granting that the testimony of these police officers is true, the jury will have to decide whether the man who was arrested is the assassin, or whether the man who was arrested is the assassin, or whether the man who was arrested is the assassin.

Both swear Dally did not go to Geller's with them, but followed afterwards, and thoughtfully people among the crowd, suggested that Dally might have met these officers, as testified by the witnesses for defense, why it was asked, could he not have participated in the two different events, because he was with the officers at the time which occurred between 6:30 and 7:30 and 9 and a little later, as testified by Lizzie Lawlor and Mamie Hannan?

May Go to the Jury To-Day.

Before court opened this morning Lawyer Lawlor said that he expected to finish his case by the time the court opens to-day. The case may therefore go to the jury to-day. While waiting for the jury to open, Lawlor had a conversation for about five minutes with Sgt. McDonald, who was in full uniform.

When court opened, at 11:15, the examination of Patrolman John J. Lussler was resumed. The witness swore that after taking his "craps" prisoner over to the station-house he returned to his post and made a careful patrol of it.

DAILEY TESTIFIES.

The Accused Roundsmen on the Stand in His Own Behalf.

Flatly Denies the Story of Mamie Hannan and Her Witnesses.

He Had Never Been in Joe Geller's Place.

When Recorder Smyth opened Part III, of the court of General Sessions this morning, there was an impression prevalent that the trial of the Roundsmen would be a long one.

But, charged with criminally assaulting Mamie Hannan in the back room of Joe Geller's saloon at Pitt and Broome streets, on the night of March 26 last, had not been made complete.

Joseph Geller, at Pitt and Broome streets, asked Roger Rosen the reply.

"Did you about 6:30 o'clock on the night of March 26, enter the back room of Joseph Geller's saloon and find Mamie Hannan, Lizzie Lawlor and Sgt. McDonald there?"

"No, sir."

"Did you at any time on Saturday, March 26, assault or attempt to assault Mamie Hannan?"

"No, sir."

"Did you on March 26 have ever been in Joe Geller's saloon?"

"No, sir."

"Did you remember, did you first see Mamie Hannan?"

"May 23, 1892, the night of Mrs. Hannan's arrest."

Dailey positively denied being with McDonald and Mamie Hannan on the night of March 26, and all their testimony leading up to, during and following the alleged assault.

He said he saw McDonald at the station-house when he himself turned out his platform at 6 o'clock and did not see him again until 12:15 midnight, when he returned from patrol duty.

Dailey denied ever seeing Mrs. Hannan before May 23, 1892. He also flatly contradicted the testimony of Thomas Kelly.

Dailey swore he never saw Lizzie Lawlor before the night he saw her in the sixth street saloon, where he went by request of Roger Rosen, who said Lizzie Lawlor wanted to make an affidavit exonerating him from the charges made by Mamie Hannan.

On cross-examination Dailey got badly rattled and went to pieces entirely in attempting to explain how he came to arrest Mrs. Hannan on the night of May 23.

He admitted that he saw Kelly at his attention was attracted to a disturbance in front of 318 Monroe street, and he went there to quell it.

Dailey said he was notified that he was needed there, but that there wasn't any trouble. He said he went there, and the Court—Did you send up for Mrs. Hannan?"

"Yes, sir."

The Court—And then arrested her?"

"Yes, sir."

Dailey—Yes, sir. I'll allow it. (To the witness)—Didn't you know it?"

Dailey—No, sir.

THEY NEED A REST.

The overworked political zoo will now give its animals a vacation.

The overworked political zoo will now give its animals a vacation.

MILES MAY SUCCEED HOWARD.

Rumor that the Two Generals Will Exchange Commands.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—There is a probability that Major-General Nelson A. Miles will within a few months exchange departments with Major-General O. O. Howard, now commanding the Department of the Atlantic. Such is the rumor in army circles, though nothing can be learned about it officially.

Gen. Miles has just leased a house until next May, and it was said that he would not care for it after that date.

It is said, also, that Gen. Miles is very willing to leave Chicago on account of the amount of criticism bestowed upon his management of the parades during the dedication of the World's Fair buildings.

Gen. Howard is now abroad on leave of absence, and nothing will be done in the matter until his return.

At Governor's Island none of the officers knew of the proposed change, but as Gen. Howard put it, "very likely such a move has been made and yet we wouldn't know of it immediately."

Gen. Howard is in Europe, where his family have been sojourning all summer.

FORESEEN BY MR. CROKER.

His Forecast of the Political Land-slide Made Nov. 4.

The tremendous landslide of States for Cleveland was predicted by H. H. Croker early last week. Nov. 4, speaking of the outlook to an Evening World reporter, he said:

"I am more than ever confident that Cleveland and Stevenson will be elected. Every-thing points to that event, and furthermore, the election will be accompanied by a landslide that will cause a very great surprise to Republicans."

"Mr. Cleveland's plurality in this city will be 75,000. I am firmly convinced of this. I also think that Cleveland will carry Wisconsin, Illinois, Ohio, California and Indiana. I say California, because our past defeats were accomplished by very small majorities in that State, and events that have come to my knowledge lead me to predict that the far-away State will go Democratic."

"The Democratic majority, I predict, will be 15,000. The Republicans already realize this, and it has become now a question in their minds how the people can be best cheated. Cleveland's election will be accompanied by a landslide of States going over enthusiastically to him."

It will be seen from the above that Mr. Croker's ability as a political prophet is of a high order.

QUEER SUIT FOR $2,000.

A Story Told in Justice Cullen's Supreme Court.

Daniel A. Jones, a Republican politician of South Brooklyn, is suing Father Patrick O'Hare, of St. Anthony's Catholic Church, Brooklyn, for $2,000. When the case came up before Justice Cullen in Supreme Court this morning, the morning Counselor Patterson, for the plaintiff, asked leave to amend his complaint by adding new evidence. The request was granted and the case set down for Nov. 21.

Several years ago Patrick Callahan was a member of one of the bridges at Gowanus Canal. In 1878 he married a widow who had two children. One child resulted from the marriage and was called Mary.

One day, August 1888, Callahan had trouble with and thrashed a man named Hagar, who sued Callahan and got a judgment for $1,000. The judgment could not be collected, because Callahan's property was in his wife's name.

Jones bought the judgment from Callahan. Mrs. Callahan died soon after, and left about $8,000 in the hands of Father O'Hare to be held in trust for Mary. Callahan died last year, and Mary is still under age.

Jones is now suing Father O'Hare for the amount of the judgment with interest.

MR. REID PHILOSOPHICAL.

The Defeated Candidate's Views of the Republican Reverse.

Whitehall Reid, the defeated Republican candidate for the Vice-Presidency, has been stating his view of the result of Tuesday's election.

He says that the Democratic tidal wave which has swept the country gives him some disappointment and concern about his own personal defeat. He takes it as an indication that a large portion of the Republican party is dissatisfied with McKinley tariff legislation, and yet, he says, he is glad the Democrats have made a clean sweep, for all republicans will be in the hands of the majority.

For his own reverses, he says he feels that he has entered the political arena too old to cry, and it hurt too much to laugh. Mr. Reid declares that he has had enough of public life, and does not intend to enter it again.

As for his reverses, he says he feels that he has entered the political arena too old to cry, and it hurt too much to laugh. Mr. Reid declares that he has had enough of public life, and does not intend to enter it again.

When he was Secretary of the Navy he planned and began the rebuilding of the Navy, and it is said that he desires to be the head of the Navy again in order to finish his uncompleted work.

When he was Secretary of the Navy he planned and began the rebuilding of the Navy, and it is said that he desires to be the head of the Navy again in order to finish his uncompleted work.

When he was Secretary of the Navy he planned and began the rebuilding of the Navy, and it is said that he desires to be the head of the Navy again in order to finish his uncompleted work.

When he was Secretary of the Navy he planned and began the rebuilding of the Navy, and it is said that he desires to be the head of the Navy again in order to finish his uncompleted work.

When he was Secretary of the Navy he planned and began the rebuilding of the Navy, and it is said that he desires to be the head of the Navy again in order to finish his uncompleted work.

When he was Secretary of the Navy he planned and began the rebuilding of the Navy, and it is said that he desires to be the head of the Navy again in order to finish his uncompleted work.

When he was Secretary of the Navy he planned and began the rebuilding of the Navy, and it is said that he desires to be the head of the Navy again in order to finish his uncompleted work.

When he was Secretary of the Navy he planned and began the rebuilding of the Navy, and it is said that he desires to be the head of the Navy again in order to finish his uncompleted work.

When he was Secretary of the Navy he planned and began the rebuilding of the Navy, and it is said that he desires to be the head of the Navy again in order to finish his uncompleted work.

When he was Secretary of the Navy he planned and began the rebuilding of the Navy, and it is said that he desires to be the head of the Navy again in order to finish his uncompleted work.

When he was Secretary of the Navy he planned and began the rebuilding of the Navy, and it is said that he desires to be the head of the Navy again in order to finish his uncompleted work.

When he was Secretary of the Navy he planned and began the rebuilding of the Navy, and it is said that he desires to be the head of the Navy again in order to finish his uncompleted work.

When he was Secretary of the Navy he planned and began the rebuilding of the Navy, and it is said that he desires to be the head of the Navy again in order to finish his uncompleted work.

LAST EDITION.

FLOWER FOR SENATOR.

The Governor May Succeed to Senator Hisecock's Seat.

Mr. Sheehan Would Then Be New York's Chief Executive.

Speculation on President Cleveland's Next Cabinet.

The result of the election now being positively settled, politicians are turning their attention to and speculating on the possible make-up of President Cleveland's next cabinet.

Very many are also greatly interested, now that the Legislature is known to be Democratic on John Ballot, in the probable successor of United States Senator Frank Hisecock. Senator Hisecock's term expires March 4 next.

It is said that Gov. Flower is ambitious to be the senator's successor, and that Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan wants to succeed to the Governor's office. Democratic politicians generally agree that Gov. Flower will be sent to the Senate, if he so desires, and Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan will then become Governor for the unexpired term.

There has been some talk of Congressman W. Bourke Cockran for Senator, but his friends allege that he does not want that place. It is said that he is satisfied with his law practice and the opportunities he has, with his splendid powers, to make a record in the lower house of Congress, to which he has just been re-elected.

Some of the states may be broken, it is whispered, by the choice of the men mentioned by President Cleveland for Cabinet positions. In regard to Cabinet selections by Mr. Cleveland the politicians are all at sea. There is a large variety of men to select from for Cabinet timber.

States that have hitherto been Republican have been elected to the Democratic column. In regard to Cabinet selections by Mr. Cleveland the politicians are all at sea. There is a large variety of men to select from for Cabinet timber.

The cabinet also generally figured out by politicians around the great hall of the State House this morning, was as follows:

Secretary of State—Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware.

Secretary of the Treasury—John L. Mitchell, ex-Postmaster-General, William F. Vilas, of Wisconsin.

Secretary of the Navy—William C. Whitney, of New York.

Secretary of War—W. B. Franklin, of Connecticut.

Secretary of the Interior—Gov. Isaac F. Gray, of Indiana.

Secretary of Agriculture—Gov. Boies, of Iowa.

Attorney-General—Congressman William L. Wilson, of West Virginia, or Congressman Charles F. Johnson, of Michigan.